

In short, I'm definitely against it. I've been in the print media for 40 years and sincerely believe that the consumer public as well as print media services will suffer severely from allowing same city ownership of multiple print and broadcast media.